Your Rainy Day Fund

Every man and woman who plays safe sets aside a sum for unexpected expenses. Worry about tomorrow is not one of their trials. They look the future confidently in the eye; there is no financial trouble for them. They have a rainy-day fund set aside for emergencies.

Here is a concrete example, right here in Phoenix, of the need of a rainy-day fund. The husband receives a fairly good salary, of a size that he should have saved $50.00 per month, but they were both well, and their living cost kept pace with their income, with no thought that conditions would be otherwise. Suddenly the wife collapsed, spending three months in bed, and three months convalescing, and then was banished to the seashore for another three months. It meant the additional expense (unprovided for) of the doctor, the druggist, a nurse, and a maid, and the long absence from home.

That husband has financial worry added to his long strain, which impairs his efficiency, while the wife has nothing to do but worry, worry, and that retards her recovery.

This or worse might happen to you. Are you prepared for it with a rainy-day fund?

BIG IRRIGATION CONGRESS IS TO BE HELD "ON WHEELS"

(Special to The Republican)
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—Former Ambassador Myron T. Herrick is to be one of the big speakers before the International Irrigation congress at its meeting in California in September. The irrigation congress has been placed "on wheels" and will meet in Stockton, Sept. 13-14; in Fresno, Sept. 15-16; in Sacramento, Sept. 17-18; and in San Francisco, Sept. 20. One day in each city is to be devoted to excursions, free to delegates, through the irrigated districts of the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, two of the richest irrigated valleys in the world.

Ambassador Herrick will discuss "Rural Credits" and their benefits to irrigation farmers, as well as other agriculturalists. "Is there anything the matter with the American Farmer?" This is what the irrigation congress proposes to learn this year. If there is anything the matter, the irrigators want to know what it is and the remedy.

TIME NEARING FOR HOPI

holding one or more in his mouth, the "sustainer" diverting the attention of the snakes with a feather wand, while the "collector" attends to gathering the stray snakes. After this weird and dangerous dance, the snakes are dropped on the ground, to be received by the "collectors," who keep them in their hands until completion of the ceremony, when priests carry the snakes swiftly to the country below and release them. The ceremony originated and is kept up in accordance with the belief that the first children of a union between an ancestral culture-hero and a mythical snake princess were rattlesnakes, and hence the elder brother of the latter generation. Being sprung from a source in some respects supernatural, snakes are believed to be in close touch with the god that controls rain, which insures the crops and other blessings needed by the Hopi tribe, whose country is arid and desolate.

None of the Hopi tribe would willingly kill a snake, poisonous or harmless, as they are regarded as sacred and treated with some of the peculiar attributes and powers of the gods. In their ceremonies rattlesnakes are principally used, but, due to care in handling them, accidents rarely happen during the ceremony.

The Hopi priests become so wrought up over the dance as it progresses that the horror does not appear amid the rhythmic movement and tragic gestures of the dancers. The priests are long-haired and painted in lurid colors. A chorus of tribesmen forms the orchestra, and the music comes from rattles that beat time for the dance.

The snake dance is not the only big event of the nine-day celebration. A snake race is enjoyed by the Indian boys. There is an antelope dance and other fantastic dances in which the entire tribes take part.

The spectators form a cosmopolitan crowd. Cowboys, prospectors, army officers, scientists, photographers and tourists mingle with the Hopis. This year an unusual number of tourists are in the region awaiting the snake dance, which is the only one of the many sacred rites that is performed in the open.

NO MISSIONARY DEAD

(Associated Press Dispatch)
TEFLIS, Transcaucasia, Russia, Aug. 21.—Dr. Kochadur Bonapartian, an Armenian physician and surgeon, who has escaped to the Russian lines after serving for ten months with the Turkish army, brings reassurances that no American missionary is known as yet to have died in Armenia as a result of the war.

He believes that during the first three months of the year there were probably 2000 deaths a day from disease alone among the Turkish soldiers and civilians, and he said that Turkish losses from all causes since the war began might be as high as 300,000. Aside from this, food and ammunition supplies were growing so scant that he doubted that the Turks could offer effective resistance against the Russians. He said they did not appear to have any large strategic plan, but contented themselves with delaying the Russian advances and threatening the Russian left flank, north of the lake of Van.

MANY IRON CROSSES

(Associated Press Dispatch)
BERLIN, Aug. 21.—The number of iron crosses thus far granted to German soldiers is near the half million mark. Statistics up to March 31, according to the Cologne Gazette, show a total of 338,261 crosses of the second class. Even if this rate has only been maintained since—and undoubtedly it has been exceeded, considering the increased number of men under arms—it would give a total exceeding 450,000. In the period mentioned, 6,488 iron crosses of the first class had also been granted. The holders of these must previously have won the second-class decoration. The crosses issued up to March 31 had cost about 2,800,000 marks.

RELIEF DOES NOT MATERIALIZE

(Associated Press Dispatch)
MEXICO CITY, by courier to Vera Cruz, (Monday), Aug. 16.—The promised relief to the suffering population has not materialized. When General Gonzalez entered the capital he declared he would immediately distribute large quantities of supplies. Instead, corn, sugar and coffee, it is alleged, were sold at exorbitant prices by Gonzalez officers at Buena Vista.

"Colonization and Settlement of Our Vacant Land" will receive earnest consideration, with special sessions at Stockton "Irrigation Methods and Results" will be discussed at Fresno, with sessions for "Irrigation Laws and Legislation" and "Problems of Irrigation Engineering." "Financial Factors Affecting Irrigation Development" will be discussed at San Francisco, with special sessions for "Rural Credits and Marketing" and "Water, Soils, Crops, Farm Bureau Work" will be discussed at Sacramento. At San Francisco the congress will meet in Festival Hall at the exposition.

Noted speakers from the United States and foreign countries will participate in the program, together with governors of states, United States senators, members of congress, men in public life, men who are doing things in the development of the west and the hundreds of irrigators from all parts of the United States.

J. B. Case, of Kansas, is president of the congress.

studied carefully but in the meantime a German statement will be sought. Ambassador Gerard at Berlin will be instructed to look to the German government for an explanation of the sinking of the Arabic or at least for a statement of the facts that so far have been reported to the admiralty by the submarine commander. That this might take a fortnight is realized from the fact that the German admiralty has heretofore declared it could communicate with submarines on ocean lanes only with difficulty, and that often it is necessary to await their return to home ports.

It is recalled that so far the state department has been unable to secure reports from the German foreign office in the case of the Orduna which was shelled more than a fortnight ago, and the same delay was experienced in the Lecanawa and Nebraska cases.

Notwithstanding the possibility of delay it has been decided that in a matter of such gravity and importance the amenities of diplomatic intercourse as well as a sense of justice require that the German government be given ample time to present its side of the case before the action to be taken by the United States is determined upon.

DEVELOP NEW TRENCHES

(Associated Press Dispatch)
THE HAGUE, Aug. 21.—The war department of the Netherlands has developed a new sort of trench for use in the low and marshy parts of the country where in case of an invasion, the chief battles might be expected. Fighting along the Yser has taught the strength of a water defense above all others. For this purpose, as is well known, the so-called "water-line" has been brought into existence. But a great deal of fighting might take place upon the endless tracts of meadows which lie around the capital of the kingdom. The trenches which will here be constructed will be arranged in such a way that at a moment's notice they can be turned into flooded ditches.

TO RESTRICT FRUIT EXPORTS

(Associated Press Dispatch)
ESSEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—Diligent efforts are being made to restrict the export, via the Rhine into Holland, of the fruits that grow so plentifully along the great river. Dutch merchants, it has been established, have been taking out of Germany great quantities of cherries and berries, which it is suspected are shipped on farther to England. Local fruit merchants have just stumbled upon the fact that contracts already exist under which the best of the late fruit has been sold to Dutchmen. The quantity is greater than all Holland would need or use. This fact, along with the fact that England always has imported German fruit, leads to the conviction that Germany's enemy is still being fed by German fruit.

TO COMBAT WHITE SLAVERY

(Associated Press Dispatch)
PANAMA, Aug. 21.—Extraordinary efforts are being made by the American authorities on the isthmus to break up the increasing "white slave" trade in Central America. The traffic has increased because of the war in Europe and the fact that a large number of American soldiers are being stationed on the Canal Zone within a short distance from each of the two Panama towns of Colon and Panama. Both of the night life districts in these cities have been greatly extended until now they cover very large restricted areas.

EMBASSY STAFF LEAVES

(Associated Press Dispatch)
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 21.—The Italian ambassador and embassy staff left Constantinople at noon yesterday according to a telegram from the Turkish capital. The United States embassy was entrusted with the task of protecting Italians in Turkey.

"Blind Faith" Versus Facts and the Paige

The overwhelming success and the acknowledged leadership of the Paige seven-passenger "Six-46" are the results of demonstrated facts.

The Paige triumph has been won through achievements of manufacture—proved out in the bitter battle of competition and on the hard field of practical service.

The faith of the motor-buying public in the Paige Six is not a "blind faith." It is a faith founded on the solid rock of facts—of promises more than fulfilled, of goods delivered.

Buyers of the Paige "Six-46" found that they had secured so much in value and quality that a new standard was set. There was no longer any question of "price class." The Paige became the standard of comparison regardless of price.

Paige "Six" Owners Say—

Owners of the Paige "Six-46" will tell you that they have found in it a degree of luxury, ease of riding and comfort they have never before experienced in any car at any price.

They will tell you this is due to Paige design and construction and to the generous Paige policy in values. They will specifically mention—

Abundance of power; flexibility and simplicity of control; and such features as the genuine Pantasote top, the body finish of Richelieu Blue which takes 24 days to complete, and the French glaze, hand-buffed leather.

Remember—you get all these great values in the Paige seven-passenger Six for $1295. Come in and see also the remarkable values of the new Paige five-passenger Six at $1085.
